Description

Lumi is a Pay-As-You-Go (PAYG) solar power provider focused on low-income, rural communities in Uganda. Lumi's PAYG solar power systems and last-mile sales and distribution network transform an expensive, often cost-prohibitive asset purchase into affordable electricity access. With over 5,000 customers in Uganda and South Sudan, Lumi has engineered solutions to key issues preventing wide-scale adoption of solar power, particularly in very rural areas with very low-income customers.

Seeking investors, convertible debt offering

After years of R&D and testing with thousands of PAYGO customers Lumi is preparing to scale distribution to tens and hundreds of thousands of low-income customers in rural Uganda. We are closing a convertible debt round in December to fund this expansion and we are still open to additional participants. Details are available upon request for qualified investors.
