Description

Konserve is a private business entity focused on providing well engineered renewable energy solutions in the East African region. Based in Uganda, Konserve has positioned herself as a service provider looking at all opportunities to extend a service of affordable access to modern energy while dealing with solutions to existing barriers. Konserve now seeks to broaden her service in the solar PV space in Uganda with ambitious market access targets. Ranging from solar microgrids to standalone solar solutions for off-grid households. The Konserve team is young, creative, dynamic and enthusiastic. Along with that Konserve has quite some experience handling renewable energy related projects.
